

Friday Round Up

This email has been sent to all Clergy, PTOs, Churchwardens, Secretaries, and all those on our Friday email list.

Dear Friends,

I am extremely grateful to all of you who have worked so hard to enable our church buildings to be open for public worship and private prayer. I do not underestimate what this has required of church members and of our Archdeacons and other clergy in ensuring that each church is compliant with the latest government regulations and the Provincial advice that is based on it. Our worship of God as his beloved children lies at the heart of our faith and whilst this has continued in an admirable way via various online platforms, most of us would agree that it is not at all the same as meeting together in the flesh and worshipping together in a church building; places to which we come ‘to kneel where prayer has been valid’ (T S Eliot, Little Gidding). We also come, of course, to receive the sacrament and this is what has been missed by many, probably above all else.

Alongside all this, it is important to remind ourselves that there is no obligation to open every single church building in our diocese. In some places, this will not be possible and it is important that there is no sense of guilt about this. Many church members are still, understandably, very nervous about coming back to church and there are not always the people available to do everything that is required to comply with the guidance. It remains the case that whilst all may open, none must.

Our prayers are particularly with the churches and communities in our diocese that fall within the County of Caerphilly and with the clergy who serve them. Further guidance (for that area only) has been issued and can be found here.

The Ordinations of deacons and priests is going ahead in one service at 11am on Saturday October 3rd. The Licensing of Paul Stafford as Reader will take place on the following Wednesday at 7pm. Both services will be live-streamed from the Cathedral. The updated Ember list is here. Please do pray for all those being ordained and licensed.

The theme for my Tuesday reflections this month is Creationtide which lasts between 1st September and 4th October. The future of creation in the light of climate change and global warming is arguably the most pressing issue that the world faces after COVID-19. Safeguarding the integrity of creation is also an integral part of the Church's mission. (<https://www.anglicancommunion.org/mission/marks-of-mission.aspx>) There is a lot of material for study, prayer and suggested actions that all of us can take on the web (<https://www.churchofengland.org/more/policy-and-thinking/our-views/environment-and-climate-change/season-creation>) and I encourage you to look at them for inspiration, stimulation and action, as well as for prayer.

Finally, I'm delighted to commend some webinar sessions that have been compiled by our CMD officer, Revd James Henley, and a small team working with him. These are for clergy and laity alike and will help deepen our reflection on important aspects of our faith and practice in the light of the 'new normal'. I encourage you to tune in. Further information, including how to book your place, can be found below.

With my prayers for you and for all whom you love and care for,

Being Ministers in the New Normal

An Autumn series of webinars from Diocese of Monmouth, for clergy, lay ministers and any others involved in ministry.

None of us could have predicted the impact of Covid-19 on our world, as well as our churches and Ministry Areas. In the midst of an already changing landscape, living in lockdown has also brought challenges and changes to our own identity and calling as Christian ministers.

This series of webinars is an opportunity to reflect more deeply on all the past six months has brought, bringing our varied experiences into conversation with one another, and with our theology of different aspects of ministry.

Each webinar will be repeated on Tuesday afternoons from 2pm-3pm, and on Thursday evenings 7.30pm-8.30pm. They will only last an hour, but include reflections from speakers within the Diocese, the opportunity for small group discussion, and to bring together feedback and ideas with the Diocesan Team.
